COMPLLED FOR THE WARRINGTON UNION.

A Venerable Paster.—A recent number of the Lewisburg (Va.) Chronicle gives an interesting sketch of the semi-centennial sermon delivered by Rev. John McElhenny, pastor of the Presbyterian church in that place—it being just fifty years since he delivered his first sermon in that church, of which he has been pastor ever since. That paper says: "Fifty years ago there were not more than 40 or 50 members of the Presbyterian church in all this section of country, and they were old persons; whilst there are now 910 members in the bounds of this congregation. At that time religious services were held in groves, private houses, and barns. In a sugar grove near Union a stand for worship was erected at which many very interesting meetings were held.

"There is but one couple remaining who were married when he came here. At that time there were but eleven graves in the graveyard, and they chiefly those of children. He has preached as many as eight funerals in one family, and as many as three and four in a number of families. He has preached 7,800 sermons, about 1,000 of which have been funeral sermons; baptized about 1,200 persons, and married 1,500 couples."

New England Heathen.—The following statement is of which have been funeral sermons; baptized about 1,390 persons, and married 1,500 couples."

Now England Heathen.—The following statement is made in a report on Home Missions recently submitted at the Massachusetts General Association:

"From reliable statistics, it appears that in Maine, New Hampshire, Vermont, and Massachusetts not more than one quarter of the whole population are in the habit of attending church! There are one million three hundred thousand people in New England who, so far as attending church is concequed, are, practically, like the heathen. There are twenty-six towns in this State which have no evangelical preaching."

The New York Observer remarks that if the above statements are correct, they ought to produce a more startling effect than an earthquake; but it is inclined to think there must be some mistake in the matter. After some pertinent observations on the subject, the Observer concludes by saying;

"It occurs to us to suggest, though it may not be well received, that, with such a reproof as this before the churches of Massachusetts, it is far more important to consider the destinte and suffering condition of these perishing hundreds of thousands at their own door than to be inordinately disturbed by the neglect of the American Tract Society to publish on the subject of slavery. The 'heathena' at our own doors are the objects of our first concern, and if we provide not for our own we are worse than infidels."

American Bible Society.—The stated meeting of the managers was held at the Bible House, Astor Place, or Thursday, July 1, at half-past four, p. m., Dr. Thomas Cock in the chair, assisted by Wm. B. Crosby, Benjamin L. Swan, and Francis Hall, esqs.

Five new societies were recognised—one in New York, one in Indiana, and three in Texas.

Communications were received from Rev. R. S. Maclay, Fuh Chau, China, in regard to printing the Scriptures in that country, and stating the love of young converts for the Bible; from a gentleman in Lima, Peru, in regard to the encouraging opening for Bible distribution there; from Rev. I. G. Bliss, at Athens, in regard to his visit to Greece, and the prospect for the distribution of the Scriptures in that country; from Rev. E. C. Scudder, Madras, acknowledging a grant of funds for printing the Scriptures; with letters from agents and friends, especially in Oregon and California, with encouraging statements as to the distribution of the Scriptures. The distribution in California is very great.

Advantages of the Confessional.—The Catholic Miscellany

Advantages of the Confessional.—The Catholic Miscellany copies a paragraph from a Savannah paper in regard to the restitution of a considerable sum of money to its rightful owners, through the agency of the venerable later of Nelli of that city, and remarks: "This is only one out of a thousand examples, daily occurring, which show how valuable to human society is that much-abused tribunal, the confessional. How often do we hear zealous lovers of justice expressing freely and loudly their regret that human law is so powerless to prevent, so inadequate to reach and punish, certain crimes. Yet all or nearly all of them could be prevented, or, if committed, could be reached or remedied by the tribunal of penance, did men but appreciate its value and use its advantages, instead of denouncing, deriding, calumniating it, as too often happens, and doing all in their power to withdraw others from its salutary influences. But, to confine ourselves to the mere duty of restitution, how little does many a scoffer reflect that, in doing his best to make the confessional odious and revolting, he is, perhaps, at the same time doing his best to render irreparable the loss of some portion of his own good name or property, and thus with wanton chivalry perpetuating his own wrongs, for which that tribunal would have secured him an easy and the only possible redress."

and the only possible redress."

The corner-stone of a new Swedenborgian chapel was laid recently in 35th street, near 4th avenue, in New York city. The contemplated edifice will be of Gothic architecture, and will cover three lots, in all 75 by 100 feet, and will cost $15,000. The ceremonies were conducted by Rev. Samuel Beswick, assisted by Rev. W. B. Haydon and Rev. B. Barrett. Corn, wine, and oil were used in the exercises, as symbolizing respectively charity, spiritual brotherhood, and love to God.

A Philadelphia correspondent of the Boston Recorder states that an edition of Rev. Dr. Payson's sermon to seamen, preached in Portland, Maine, some forty years since, once lost but lately found, has been printed and circulated by a benevolent gentleman of Philadelphia, very much to the acceptance of sailors.

Rev. Theodore Byington, late of Bloomfield, and his wife, sailed from Boston a few days since in the ship Andrew Carney, for their new field of missionary labor among the Northern Armenians. Mrs. Byington is the daughter of a missionary, and was born in Smyrma.

After the sermon, the ordination of candidates for deacon's orders was performed by Bishop Meade. The number admitted to the order of deacons was ten, and the names as follows: John Coaby, M. H. Galusha, C. R. Harris, W. T. M. Jacobs, R. J. Keeling, A. M. Randolph, Walter W. Williams, Henry A. Wise, jr., all of the diocese of Virginia, and J. Mea. Harding of Pennsylvania, and C. A. L. Next, Bishop Johns admitted to priest's orders Rev. Messrs. Henderson, Suter, H. J. Kershaw, and R. B. Mason, all of the diocese of Virginia. The communion was then administered by Bishop Johns, assisted by Rev. Mr. Hoff, to the ministers present, and the services were closed with the usual prayers and benediction.—Southern Churchman.

The Pew System.—The Churchman (Puscylte Episcopalian organ) has a long and elaborate attack upon the pew system. It is claimed that the worshipper who owns a thousand-dollar pew keeps aloof from him who sits in one that cost less money, and that the unity of the body is hidden behind worldly distinctions. The matter might be carried further yet. In this country a stranger is dependent upon courtesy for a seat in church, with a few exceptions, and often, foaring refusal, is kept away. The continental system of throwing the whole church edificated organization of the wing the whole church edificated organizations, is much better and more democratic. And exceptions is much better and more democratic. And except is a lower than the court of leaven itself.

Heaven itself.

New Cithedral.—It is stated that Archbishop Hughes has issued a circular, addressed to one hundred of the wealthiest Roman Catholics of New York city, proposing that they should each advance the sum of one thousand dollars as a subscription to begin the erection of a magnificent Cathedral in the Fifth Ayenue, between Fiftieth and Fifty-first streets.

Probyterian Board of Foreign Missions.—There are 21 missions connected with this board, at which there are 170 missionary laborers from this country, 54 native helpers, 22 organized churches, and nearly 5,000 youths in the schools. Thirty missionaries were sent out during the past year, 12 of whom were returned missionaries. The total receipts of the year, including a special contribution of $18,112 57 to repair losses in India, were $223,577.79, and the expenditures $207.051 51.

Search the Scriptures.—As a club of infidels in Massachusetts were recently studying the Bible to ascertain what it said on the subject of baptism, six or seven were led to faith in the word of God and in Christ, and are now rejoicing in the Saviour.

The proposition to catabilish schools for seamanship at the principal supports in the United States has repeatedly received more or loss attention, and something practical has been accomplished at Soston and Baltimore; but the results thus far are quite insignificant, when compared with the prospective wants of the naval and mercantile marine. In England efforts in this direction seem to have been attended with better success. By the following extract from the London News of the List ultimo, it appears that the Liverpool school for seamen on the Mersey is doing well, and that another of the same character is to be established on the Thames, near London:

To provide with certainty for a large class of lads without the costliness of emigration, it is now proposed to establish in the Thames a ship reformatory, where strong and healthy boys may receive a training or preparation for a sea-faring life, and be rendered valuable as apprentices for her Majenty's may, the merchant service, or for other similar employment. A large number of the young offenders found in our prisons have the restlessness which unfits them for ordinary trades, and at the same time the dash and daring so much valued on ship-board. The proposed experiment is not a new one. The school frigate Akbar, established in the Mersey early in 1856 by the Liverpool Juvenile Reformatory Association, has turned out good seamen, and no difficulty has hitherto been found in providing situations as soon as a boy could be recommended as fit to go to sea. The strict order and discipline which proverbially distinguish the administration of a ship peculiarly fit it to be a school for the unruly spirits who have defied society and the law. The committee of the Reformatory and Refuge Union, who have long had the establishment of such a reformatory near London in contemplation, now see their way to the execution of their project. They have obtained their ship, with a promise of further ald from the government, and now only require funds, for which the public will no

LOCAL INTELLIGENCE.

TAR NEW YORK REMINERY.—Very general regret is expressed by our citizens that the "gallant seventh" have left for their homes in New York. Although their stay was brief they made many friends, and felt grateful for the interest manifested for their comfort. Their leave-taking on Friday night and yesterday morning was quite touching, and we feel astished that after they reach their homes they will frequently, as will our citizens, and most especially the District volunteers, recur to the incidents of their visit with real pleasure. In speaking of their visit, the correspondent of the Baltimore Sun, Aga, says:

"The New York soldiery, who are here, do not seem at all flustered or annoyed by the petty exactions arising from the grounding of their steamer, but are calm and cool as gentlemen invariably are who have calculated the cost of a tour before setting out upon it. As this city was the scene of Mr. Monroe's most remarkable public service, it was fit that it should be included in the route of the citizen soldiers of the North, whose noble tribute to his memory excites on all hands a glow of pride and gratulation that still more strongly binds all true hearts to the sentiment of Union. Much credit is due to our District military, who, without aid or encouragement of any kind from the authorities or the people at large, have contributed their money and two days of precious time to these who habitually aneer at and disparage their none to those who habitually aneer at and disparage their offers to maintain a creditable volunteer organization at the seat of government.

"It were much better for the community if the days could be restored when it was a thing of joy and pride to be attached to an independent military corps. Their contributes to the inches of the counter organization at the seat of government.

"It were much better for the community if the days could be restored when it was a thing of joy and pride to be attached to an independent military corps. Thair entire thought and act were in the direction of pakriotism, law, order, propriety, and true chivalry. It is lamentable that this beneficent element of society has been usurped in many cities by banded rowdies, who, with their slung-shots and revolvers, are potent to inspire unmanly fear with the humble and defenceless, but who have not the course nor chance, to be of swall at a period of peril to the State. Communities can do no better thing for themselves than to make handsome provision in ald of volunteer military establishments.

"Although this city has plenty of broad streets, it has no square or plaza suitable for the evolutions of a regiment. Accordingly, the movements of the New York regiment to-day have been simply these: from line to column of march by companies—each company being in one double rank. Enough was seen, however, to satisfy the most experienced in military service that this corps far surpassed any of like character in the respects of drill, appointments, and soldierly bearing."

Last night we were informed by the agent of the New York railroad connection with this city that he had met York railroad connection with this city that he had met the Seventh Regiment at Newark, New Jersey, in good spirits, and much pleased with their near approach to their homes. The train which conveyed them consisted of nineteen cars. It gives us great pleasure to speak of the liberality with which these gentlemen were treated by the proprietors of Brown's Hotel. Not one cent was charged for their entertainment; and this act of hospi-tality deserves, as it will receive, general commendation.

The Captron Expression.—This work is steadily progressing, and there is every reason to expect that the Senate will be able to take possession of their new hall at the next session. In the north wing, on every side may be seen the marks of progress, and the "busy note of preparation" gives warning that all due dillgence is being made to give the representatives of the sovereign States "ample room and verge enough" for the discharge of their legislative functions, instead of the former hall, in which they had but little room, and the sovereign people in the galleries still less. On passing through the people in the galleries still less. On passing through the corridors, and viewing the various committee-rooms in the north wing, on the one hand may be seen a group of imported artists, adorning the walls and ceilings with groups of figures, animate and inanimate—duopedal, quadrupedal, and multipedal—representing objects in heaven and on earth, and some which have no existence beyond the fertile brain of the delineator—in all the colors of the rainbow, and many others which are not in the rainbow-with owers and fruit which could only have grown in Utopiaflowers and fruit which could only have grown in Utopla-ornamented with scrolls, volutes, and circumvolutes; modillions and all other imaginable forms which can be made by the combination of straight lines, curved lines, and crooked lines, and covering every visible inch of sur-face, with the most lavish profusion, apparently with the idea that, as nature abhors a vacuum, so does the intelli-gent eye abhor a plain surface. In other rooms the workmen are busily engaged in laying down those ex-pensive encaustic tiles, which are destined, like the gems in the dark, unfathomed caves of occan, to be hidden from every eye, as soon as the rooms are occupied, by a covering of carpet. The Senate chamber is still far from completion, although much has been done since we last completion, although much has been done since we last took a view of it. The work on the new dome is slowly progressing, as far as visible results are concerned; but the progress is uninterrupted. There are only about twenty men now employed, in consequence of the fron being furnished slowly. In the south wing the various committee-rooms have been fitted up in the same gaudy nd ostentatious manner as in the north wing; but nough has been said on that subject.

In each wing the main staircases are now being built, and form a fine exhibition of American marble, which

DEMOCRATIC MEETING IN THE FOURTH WARD. -- In DUIT biance of notice, a meeting of the democratic and anti-know-nothing voters of the Fourth ward was held last night at Copp's Saloon, for the purpose of nominating a candidate for Alderman, in place of Captain John H. Goddard, who resigned his seat in the board on being nominated chief of police. The meeting was organized by calling Hugh B. Sweeny to the chair, and the appoint by calling Hugh R. Sweeny to the chair, and the appoint ment of J. Carroll Brent, esq., as secretary. The business for which the meeting was called having been stated, Mesars. Francis Mohun, Benedict Milburn, Dr. E. Chapin, Dr. Duhamel, Edward Simms, esq., John Dowling, esq., and others, were severally nominated; but all except the four first named declined to permit their names to be used. The meeting then proceeded to ballot and on the first and second ballots, no person having received a majority of all the votes, there was no choice. The plurality rule was then adopted; and on the third ballot Mr. Francis Mohun was declared the choice of the meeting. It is proper to state that Mr. M. had also received the highest number of votes on the previous balceived the highest number of votes on the previous bal-lots. We hope our friends in the Fourth ward will rally in strong force to the polls on the 19th inst. and elect their candidate by a triumphant majority.

FIFTY-FOUR YEARS ago this day, on the 11th of July, 1804, the ducl was fought between Aaron Burr and Alex-ander Hamilton, at Hobeken, near New York city, which resulted in the death of the latter. Mr. H. fell mortally wounded at the first fire, on the same spot where a short time previous his eldest son had been killed in a duel-He lingered until the afternoon of the following day, when he expired. And while we write this his grand-son, who a few days ago was in the full flush of youthful health and vigor, now lies in the cold embrace of death, although his memory will ever be green in the hearts of his gallant comrades of the "Seventh."

THE MAYOR.—We announce with pleasure that Mayor The Mayor.—We amounce with pleasure that Mayor Berret has so far recovered from his recent indisposition as to be able to resume the active duties of his office. The list of special policemen is now ready, and will be sent to the alderman to-morrow evening for their consideration. It has been prepared with great care and labor, and with the single object in view of promoting the best interests of the city, and, in selecting the men, the mayor has aimed to choose those best qualified for the position. The appointing power is always liable to be mistaken, but, should an error be made, we feel quite satisfied that it will immediately be rectified.

THENTY-Two SPARS! The first flag that we have with thirty-two stars displayed was that holsied by the "George Page" on Thursday night last, while bringing home a Sunday school excursion from Fort Washington. CHARLES'S LONDON CORDIAL GIN.—THE ORGINAL AND QNLY LONDON GIN IMPORTED.—This Gin, distilled in London from sound bariey, under the surveillance of the Reithe baccies laws, is delicately flavored with a ticcure of the Isalian juniper berry, and some of the most valuable restoratives of the vegetable kingdon, rendering it, in the opision of the most emissent medical men, the pursest and safest atimutant or disretic drink in use.

It is a delicious tonic, of a soft and dolicate flavor, differing entirely from any other stile, and devoid of that harsh, surid taste which reders the article known as Holland (in, or Schnapps, se objectionable.
Though not intended as a medicine, it is recommonded by physicians generally in cases of Dysperpsis, doot, Rheumalism. Dropsy, Gravel, Colle, Cholora, Fever and Ague, Stricture, Bisesace of the Urinary Orgaus, the Kideeys and the Bowels, Nervons Deblitty, &c., whilst the veaker sex will find by its adoption a sure resise from those distressting unsuryances which frequently attend their delicate organization.

Br. Valentine Most, of New York, the highest medical authority, pronounces CHARLES'S LONDON CORDIAL GIN "not only superior to any other, but the best article of the kind he has ever seen."

It is peculiarly adapted to settlers in the southern and western States, as well as for travellers supected to changes of water and air.

For sale in quarts at saventy-five cents, and pints thirty-cight cents, by all druggists, groover, fruiterers, and country merchants. Boware of imitations. Buy only CHARLES'S. NONE OTHER IS IMPORTED.
